Jane Finemore joins ABR

ABR is delighted to announce Jane Finemore as our new Communications Consultant effective 1 July 2019.

Comment from ABR Editor Peter Rose

I'm delighted that Jane Finemore has joined Australian Book Review as our new Communications Consultant. Jane's vast experience and literary/media connections suit our content and diverse publishing program. We have some major new features and programs to unveil in coming months.

At a time of media contraction and clear threats to arts journalism, quality independent journalism has never been more important.'
