About Australian Book Review

Australian Book Review is one of Australia's leading arts and cultural magazines. ABR is a fully independent non-profit organisation that publishes reviews, essays, commentaries, interviews, long-form journalism, and new creative writing. The magazine is national in readership, authorship, distribution, partners, and influence, and is available in print and online. The print edition is published ten times a year and new online content appears weekly.

The magazine has a strong and vibrant digital presence. Our website is the home of ABR's digital edition as well as our digital archive of content going back to 1978, online exclusives, and arts reviews. It is also the main access point for those seeking information about our prizes and programs, including our three international literary prizes – the Calibre Essay Prize, the ABR Elizabeth Jolley Short Story Prize, and the Peter Porter Poetry Prize – and our prestigious writers fellowships.

ABR also presents a popular weekly podcast that highlights the best new writing from the magazine alongside interviews, creative writing and other special features.
